

Economic Demography Workshop Agenda 2019

Wednesday, April 10, 2019, 1:00 PM-6:00 PM
Lone Star A (JW Marriott)

Welcoming Remarks: Sam Schulhofer-Wohl (Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago), Incoming EDW Chair

Session 1 (1:00 pm-2:30 pm): Intergenerational Mobility

Long-term and Intergenerational Effects of Education: Evidence from School Construction in Indonesia

Richard Akresh (University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign), Daniel Halim (World Bank), Marieke Kleemans (University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign)

Discussant: Willa Friedman (University of Houston)

Intergenerational Mobility in American History: Accounting for Race and Measurement Error
Zachary Ward (Baylor University)

Discussant: Stephen Trejo (University of Texas-Austin)

Break 2:30-2:45

Session 2 (2:45-4:15): Investments in Children

The Children of the Missed Pill

Tomas Rau (Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile), Miguel Sarzosa (Purdue University), Sergio Urzua (University of Maryland, College Park)

Discussant: Dean Spears (University of Texas-Austin)

Betting the House: The Role of Homeownership in Marital Commitment and Child Investments

Jeanne Lafortune (Pontificia Universidad Catolica de Chile), Corinne Low (Wharton, University of Pennsylvania)

Discussant: Tom Vogl (University of Texas-Austin)

Break 4:15-4:30

Session 3 (4:30 pm-6:00 pm): Gender

Gender Differences in Politician Persistence

Melanie Wasserman (UCLA Anderson School of Management.)

Discussant: Laura Argys (University of Colorado-Denver)

Elite Schools and Opting-In: Effects of College Selectivity on Career and Family Outcomes

Suqin Ge (Virginia Tech), Elliott Isaac (Tulane University), Amalia Miller (University of Virginia)

Discussant: Richard Murphy (University of Texas-Austin)

Note: For planning purposes, you are encouraged to indicate your EDW plans by clicking here.

The 2019 EDW Organizing Committee:

Delia Furtado (chair), Elaine Liu, Hani Mansour, Sam Schulhofer-Wohl, and Almudena Sevilla

The EDW Workshop is generously supported by the University of Michigan Population Studies Center, the Population Studies and Training Center at Brown University, and the Duke Population Research Institute.